

Why Choose Whimble?

A flexible complement to traditional home care.

Why Choose Whimble?

When it comes to personal support, you deserve care that fits your life, not just someone else's system. Whimble is being built by and for people with disabilities who need something different: support that's flexible, respectful, and client-led.

Here's exactly how Whimble fills gaps around traditional care agencies:

	 whimble	Traditional Home Care
Booking	On-demand or pre-scheduled, even for same day or short shifts	Preference for recurring shifts with advanced notice
Flexibility	Book care when & where you need it: for an event, appointment, travel, etc.	Constrained by employee availability and agency policies
Minimum Hours	1 hour minimum	Often 3 to 4 hour minimum per visit; sometimes minimum hours required to commit to per week
Client Control	Client-directed care: you are in the driver's seat.	Agency/medical team sets the plan and attendants often follow set routines with little to no flexibility
Attendant Matching	Based on your preferences and needs and attendant availability	Sometimes based on your needs; scheduling/availability critical
Coverage	Gaps around regular support including weekends, evenings, travel, events	Typically home-based and scheduled on recurring basis
Use with Public Funding?	Usually eligible for some government reimbursements	Yes, but often tied to specific care plans/activities.

Who is Whimble right for?

- You already have some supports but they're not always available
- You've been told "we can't do that" by agencies before
- You need short-term care for events, errands, travel, or family respite
- You don't want to lose your independence. You just want someone who can back you up when s hits the fan.
- You want to be ready when something comes up even if it's last minute

"But don't I need to be with an agency to get quality care?"

Nope. Whimble attendants are:

- Experienced and reference checked
- Trained in client-directed care
- Required to submit Vulnerable Sector Checks, valid CPR and First Aid, liability insurance certificates, and more
- People who genuinely want to support you the way you want to be supported

Not sure if Whimble is a fit?

We encourage everyone to sign up early, even if you're not sure when you'll need support.

Once you're onboarded, you can make requests whenever. No pressure, no commitment - we're here when you need us.
